

6. Irreversible and Irretrievable Commitment of Resources

The construction of the Jewish Congregation of Brookville would result in the irretrievable commitment of building materials and energy. Operation of the synagogue would result in consumption of energy and various materials and supplies. There would be similar results for the as-of-right use of two single family homes.